

Explorer™ 380x

Wet and Wild High and Dry ... On Whitewater Or Open Water

First introduced in 1978, the Explorer™ 380x is one of our oldest continuously offered kayaks. A couple of years ago we redesigned this series to improve their shape, bailing ability in whitewater, comfort and paddling speed on flat water.

Not only do these kayaks look better, they perform better on whitewater and on open water because of the rounded symmetrical shape and 16 self-bailing drain valves - that can be used open or shut.

The Explorer™ 380x is light enough and short enough for one person to handle in whitewater yet it can also comfortably hold 2 people and camping gear.

Best of all, because of the electronic horizontal seam system and computer controlled cutting system, the 380x is considerably light in weight without sacrificing either the strength or durability.
